Among other good things for Phoenix in the near future will be a genuine mining boom.

WASHINGTON street should be macadamized, and several of the other streets should be graded before the summer is ended.

A good Fourth of July celebration will leave from two to five thousand dollars in ready cash in Phoenix. Isn't that worth looking after?

OVER in Prescott $1000 was raised for a Fourth of July celebration in less than two hours. If Phoenix intends to celebrate, work will have to begin very soon. The time in which to prepare is short.

THE finding of a copy of the constitution designed by the filibusterers for Lower California, when it would have become a Republic, shows that the scheme was not exposed any too soon to prevent serious trouble.

THE exposure of the attempted bribery in Washington by the American Book Company should cause all the Western States and Territories to fight shy of the School Book Trust. It is fast being demonstrated that the best plan for furnishing school books is for the State to print them as is now done in California.

"ABUSE, slander and mud-slinging are the only arguments brought forward by the Democratic party boodle and black-mailing sheets and bosses against the Republican party measures, and prominent Republicans in New Mexico," says the Santa Fe New Mexican. The same thing holds good in Arizona only the mugwump sheets want to be included in the list.

SINCE the announcement of General Vandever's withdrawal as a candidate for re-election from the Sixth Congressional District of California, aspirants for his place are becoming "thick as fleas in blackberry time." Among the latest announcements is the name of Dr. Chester Rowell of Fresno, a brother of Representative Rowell of Illinois, the present chairman of the Committee on Elections of the House.

ALREADY the question of keeping the World's Fair at Chicago open on Sunday is being agitated. THE REPUBLICAN believes it should be open on Sunday. That is the one day in the week when the laboring men can visit the fair without serious loss, and the opportunity should be given them. The day for Puritanical observance of Sunday has passed, and the great mass of the people can see no more harm in a man taking his family to such an exhibition as the World's Fair than in taking them to the park or lake front for a breath of fresh air.

A MARKED difference is noted of late years in the method adopted by the alfalfa farmers of the valley for disposing of their hay crop. Instead of renting out their pastures at a stated price per head of stock put therein, they are buying lean cattle from the mountain ranges and placing them in the alfalfa fields to fatten. In about three months the steers' flanks testify to the efforts of the good living, and the animals are turned over to the butcher at a snug profit. It is the general theory that old steers are the most profitable for fattening. Many, however, prefer to buy young cattle. One purchase, recently made in Tonto Basin by local parties, was the transfer of about one hundred yearlings at $8 per head.

THE REPUBLICAN prints in another column a statement from Mr. James H. McClintock, Secretary of the Normal School Board, regarding Mr. Long's appointment, which sets at variance the assertions made in the Herald last night. The Herald is evidently misinformed in this case. Mr. Long was not regularly appointed by the Normal School Board, nor did that body ever ratify his appointment. Governor Wolfley did not refuse his signature to the warrant without giving a reason, as is shown by an interview with that gentleman published in this morning's REPUBLICAN. Furthermore THE REPUBLICAN questions Mr. Long's clean Republicanism. He received and accepted an appointment from the holdover Democratic Board after the legal Board had met and organized. What there is about his conduct that straight-out Republicans should endorse THE REPUBLICAN cannot understand.

THE A. & P. TAX CASE.

THE position taken by Attorney-General Churchill, before the court at Prescott last week regarding the taxes of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad is in the right line and should be sustained. There is no reason why the Southern Pacific and other railroads in the Territory should pay taxes on the full valuation assessed them by the State Board of Equalization while the Atlantic & Pacific by a deal with the County Supervisors scales its taxes down to four-sevenths of the assessment against it. Speaking on this subject the Prescott Courier says:

The Courier has always insisted that the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad company was liable for taxes on a fair valuation of its property in the northern counties of Arizona. The company has held to the idea that its charter exempted it from taxation in Territories. Judges of this Territory have decided against this notion. The company has "compromised" with two of the three counties and paid this county on a low valuation. Now comes the Attorney-General of the Territory insisting that Supervisors of the counties had no right to deal with the company and compromise for a less amount, per mile, than property of the company was assessed at. This was what this paper asserted, but compromises have been made and the Territory never before made serious objection.

We do not like the way the great corporation has acted on this tax matter. This and the St. Johns Herald are the only papers that have spoken out in meeting and endeavored to make the company pay taxes like other corporations and people. Had former Supervisors of this county "stood pat" the United States Supreme Court would long ago have decided the matter, but, as they did not do so and the county needs money, badly, the present Board will not, we think, be blamed by other tax payers for getting all they can out of the A. & P.

Because former Supervisors have not "stood pat" is no reason why they should not do so now. If the people of the northern portion of the Territory ever expect to get the fair share of taxes lawfully due from the Atlantic and Pacific road they must hold out for it. One of the axioms of mathematics is that "the whole is greater than any of its parts." The whole Territory of Arizona is interested in this tax question, and clearly the Territorial Board of Equalization is superior in point of law to a County Board of Supervisors. THE REPUBLICAN trusts that this matter, now that it is begun, will be fought out manly and squarely until it is properly decided. Let there be no further compromises. Either the Atlantic and Pacific railroad should pay all the taxes fixed by the Board of Equalization or it should pay none.

GET RID OF THE TRAITORS.

IT is high time that a thorough organization of the Republican party throughout Arizona should be effected for the fall campaign. The one-sided factions fight that now exists in a small portion of the Territory ought to be abandoned as it is only playing into the hands of the Democrats, who are openly rejoicing thereat and believe that in the counties where such strife prevails their party will achieve an easy victory. Any Republican who persists in such action as will lead to the defeat of the party will find out soon, that, no matter how strong he may think he is, the party is stronger and will drop him out as a false and treacherous member.

Colonel Ingersoll says "epithets are so cheap that you can make money on lies at fifteen cents a hundred." This saying is commended to the few newspapers of this Territory who, claiming to be Republican, are aiding the Democrats by trying to make a division in the Republican ranks. The money they make by it will not avail them much, but like the coin of their master traitor, Judas Iscariot, will prove of no avail when honor and character are gone and they have politically hanged themselves. Even the Democratic party will not honor Republican traitors who give them a victory by the betrayal of party trust. In the world's history no traitor was ever honored. Benedict Arnold was an honored American General. After his treason he became a neglected British Captain and soon fell into deserved obscurity and oblivion. So it will be with those alleged Republicans who are now aiding the Democracy.

PHOENIX should not let the Fourth of July pass without a rousing celebration.

THE TERRITORY.

Says the Prospector: "The person who left 'The Song that Reached my Heart' in the Prospector office can have it by calling for it. The editor 'cannot sing the old songs' just now."

The Star says: "The Tucson smelter is now doing magnificent work. The company are smelting a lot of refractory ore with great ease and are making a perfect success of their venture."

Pima County has twenty-one school districts, as follows: Tucson, Harshaw, La Nona, Tubac, Oro Blanco, Arivaca, Graterville, Calabasas, San Xavier, Crittenden, Nogales, Huachuca, Quijota, San Pedro, Buenas Ayres, Tanque Verde, Rillito, Poso Bueno, Evan's Camp, Rincon and Santa Cruz, employing in all thirty-seven teachers, eleven of whom are men and twenty-six women.

Globe Silver Belt: "Since the creation of Gila county in 1881, of her seven Sheriffs, but three—Murphy, Pascoe and Shute—are living. Hodgson, Reynolds, Lowther and Ryan are dead. Reynolds was killed by Indian convicts whom he was conveying to the Territorial prison, Hodgson died from natural causes while in office. Lowther was assassinated at Bisbee while in discharge of official duty by a fellow named Daly, and Pascoe's life was preserved by a miracle from accidental death, he having had a piece of iron thrust through his neck."

Says the Yuma Times: "G. W. Lang came into town on Friday last, with a band of 293 steers and thirty-two horses, the same having been driven from Alfar, Sonora, coming through by way of Sonoyta, Mexico. The stock was duly entered through the United States Custom House and were shipped to Beaumont, California, by train. An interesting feature to stockmen, in connection with the trip, was a drive of 125 miles without water, taking up four days and nights, losing but five head on route. This record has rarely, if ever been surpassed, and illustrates the possibility of making long drives during the summer months without water and with but a nominal percentage of loss."

Globe Silver Belt: Ed. Tewksbury had a perilous encounter with a bear one day last week near Berranger's ranch, on Cherry creek, which, although Ed. was the victor, was the closest call he ever had in a contest with a brute. Panthers had been killing colts and Ed. started out after their scalps. He struck a fresh trail on rocky ground, but could not tell what kind of an animal he was following until having gone a short distance he came suddenly upon the bear of the silver tip variety, with cubs. Mrs. Brin resented the intrusion and charged fiercely upon Ed., who met the attack with a shot from his Winchester, which, however, did not stop the bear. Attempting to throw a second cartridge into place it was flung out onto the ground, and before another could be adjusted Tewksbury was in the embrace of the savage beast. He was bitten in the left hand and right knee, and was reaching for his knife when the bear released him and started back to her cubs. Ed. was not slow to take advantage of his enemy's retreat, and two well directed shots finished her. Mr. J. D. Tewksbury, our informant, stated that his son's wounds, while painful, were not thought to be dangerous.

MINES AND MINING.

From P. B. McCabe of Globe, who has been in Phoenix for several days, THE REPUBLICAN learns that Arizona's best mining camp is taking itself a new era of prosperity. The
